ACE ELECTIVE Copyright and Use Disclaimer

The ACE Elective curriculum, developed by Nurses for Sexual and Reproductive Health (NSRH), contains information that is intended for use by instructors, students, alumni, members, and the general public. By using this site, you are accepting the terms of this disclaimer. If you do not agree with the terms in this disclaimer, you should not use the ACE Elective content.

Reasonable effort has been made to assure that the contents of this site are accurate and up to date. However, the contents of this site are made available on an “as is” “as needed” basis, without warranty of any type. This includes warranty that it represents the most accurate or up to date information available. NSRH disclaims all warranties, express or implied, with respect to the ACE Elective and its contents, including, without limitation, warranties regarding accuracy, non-infringement, completeness, title, or use.

It is incumbent upon the users of the ACE Elective curriculum to present information that they believe to be accurate and in good faith.

Images have been properly credited according to standard copyright reporting practices in the original version of ACE Elective slides and presenter packets. NSRH is not liable for alteration of slides, or copyright infringement associated with lectures given under the auspices of the ACE Elective by outside, third parties. Instructors are solely responsible for following guidelines put forth by their institution.

Further, NSRH requests that proper credit be given to the author of each lecture, should their material be used, either in part or in whole.
